THE NORMAL HERALD.

The Strength of a School is in Her Alumni.

VOLUME I.

INDIANA, PA., JULY, 1895.

NUMBER 3.

The Normal Herald.

Published quarterly in the months of February, May, July and November by the Trustees and Faculty of the Indiana Normal School of Pennsylvania.

THE NORMAL HERALD will be sent free to the Alumni, patrons and prospective students of the school, and to all friends of education applying for it.

Alumni news and other items of interest are solicited from all. Matter intended for publication should be in the hands of the editor not later than the first of the month in which the paper is issued.

Address all contributions and communications to

THE NORMAL HERALD,

THE HERALD, in addition to its regular issue this month, sends out a "Commencement Supplement" containing the news of commencement week as well as a number of illustrations which will be recognized by every one. It has been our endeavor to make this number an unusually interesting one, and we have, therefore, given, as fully as possible, accounts of all recent events at the Normal.

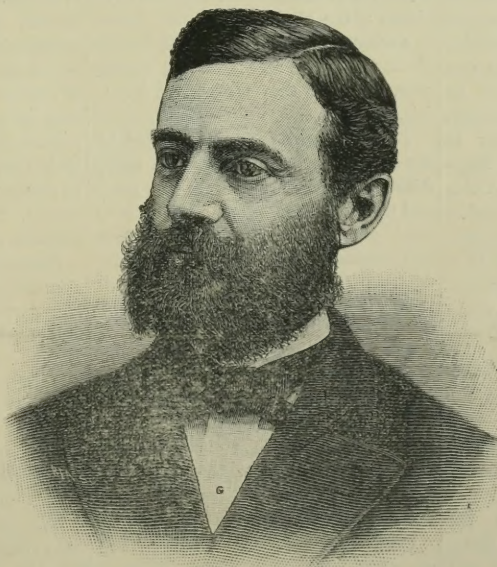

THE Alumni will learn with keen regret of the resignation from the Faculty of Dr. S. C. Schmucker. For six years Dr. Schmucker has occupied the chair of Natural Sciences, and by his scholarly attainments, thorough instruction, and warm personal interest in the students, has won the hearts of all who have gone out from the school. He goes to accept a position in the East, where his opportunities for growing in his department will be enhanced. While we regret his departure, we cannot but approve of any act which tends toward the promotion of a man of such scholarly instincts. May his future career be as pleasant as his past one has been useful.

THE following clipping from the Houtzdale Observer is but one of the many nice things our contemporaries have said about us. It is a pleasure to know that THE HERALD is not only appreciated by the Indiana Alumni, but contains matter of interest to other people as well:

"Number 2 of the NORMAL HERALD, a neat little paper issued by the students and faculty of the Indiana State Normal School, is at hand. As a school journal it is a gem, and un-

INDIANA has added another year to her history, and the results achieved bear testimony to her continued progress. The State committee examined and passed all the students recommended by the faculty in the Senior, Junior and Sub-junior courses, without a single exception. As a result two Scientifics and seventy-one Seniors have been graduated, and seventy-five Juniors and forty-one Sub-juniors promoted. The wisdom of the policy of sending before the committee only small, but well prepared, classes has been again confirmed, and Indiana still bears the proud distinction of not having lost a single Senior or Junior in many years.

like the usual style of such publications, every article therein is interesting and chatty. We shall be pleased to have it reach our sanctum in the future.

THE commencement exercises of the class of '95 were a fitting close to the student career of that body. The class of '95 has been regarded as an earnest, enthusiastic, and, in all respects, energetic body of students. The class contains a number of unusually bright minds, and its work as a whole has been very gratifying to the teachers. It has occupied a large sphere in student life here that will be hard for the succeeding class to fill. Among the many new features introduced by the graduating class into our school life, was the change in the commencement program from the old round of orations and essays by members of the class to the address by a person of note—in this case Hamilton

W. Mabie of "The Outlook." All the graduating exercises this year were very successful, and the new-made Alumni can look back upon their last days at Normal with the pleasantest of memories. To the Class of '95, THE HERALD bids "God speed" as they go out to take their places in the world.

THE organization of an Alumni Association followed by a reunion and banquet in Johnstown, published in our last issue, is something we wish to call to the attention of our Alumni everywhere. The organization of the "Conemaugh Valley Alumni Association" is, we trust, but the beginning of a movement which shall result in much good to our school. Nothing so tends to strengthen one's love for his Alma Mater as the frequent meeting together of those who have gone out from her walls to recount the experiences of school days, and discuss measures for promoting her welfare. Why can not all our Alumni band themselves together into organizations for social as well as business purposes? Can we not have at least one association in each of the counties of Western Pennsylvania? Organized effort is always much more effective than individual endeavor, and no one can estimate the good that may be done by such societies as the above. Let the Alumni take this matter in hand; correspond with your classmates or other graduates in your vicinity; and let us see if the November number of the NORMAL HERALD cannot chronicle the organization of a number of Alumni Associations in the interests of Indiana.

Professional Department.

The professional part of the work closed on Wednesday June 26, with the visit of the State Board of Examiners.

From 9 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. the Model School threw open its doors with a cordial invitation to every one interested to be present, and Examining Board, teachers, parents and friends heartily responded by coming and doing their best to be in all eight rooms at once.

The new building was viewed under most favorable circumstances, for fine drawings ornamented the black boards, flowers shed fragrance, exquisite neatness prevailed and children's happy faces were everywhere to be seen.

The young teachers felt the occasion to be somewhat of an ordeal but by their carefully prepared exercises and helpful manner showed to intelligent observers the progress made by their year's efforts. On all sides friendly faces beamed encouragement and testified to a determination to be pleased with everything.

The exercises in the Kindergarten were necessarily brief, but as that was the newest feature of the Model School and the closing session, it had crowds of visitors, rather distracting to the little people.

The morning in the Kindergarten, opened as usual with the "morning ring."

After the "good morning to all," including those of their number who were necessarily absent, as well as the friends who had come to visit the little sisters of the Model School, all joined in a song of thanks to the Heavenly Father "for rest and food and loving care, and all that makes the day so fair."

Then followed songs suggested by the season, such as "Hear the softly falling showers calling to the grass and flowers," and "I'm a little busy bee," plays about the workers, bees and carpenters, to whom we are indebted; while some plays had for their theme the family, the centre of all true living.

The children then received books of mounted sewing, weaving, paper folding and parquetry on which they had worked delightedly for the friends at home. The neat books showed that the little hands had worked faithfully and well during the few weeks in Kindergarten.

Games, chosen by the children and played standing on the ring, followed the march, and the morning closed with the sweet "good-by-song."

The friends who had expressed their interest in the Kindergarten by their presence and by their appreciation of the exercises, were invited to look at work done by children and students, the children assisting as exhibitors.

The great success attending the introduction of the Kindergarten training into the Model School has been most gratifying to all who deeply appreciate the educational value of such work. This department will reopen in September to a limited number of children and a training class for adults will be formed.

The other grades of the school had also many interested friends present and many favorable comments were heard relative to work presented.

The highest grade held its graduation exercises from 11:30 to 12:15. The older children of the school and parents and friends were present as invited guests. The exercises were literary in character, each one of the eight graduates having some part to perform. The diplomas were presented by Dr. Waller with thoughtful and helpful remarks to the class.

The school will resume its sessions in September, but will sadly miss the earnest work and inspiring, helpful cooperation of Miss Mansfield, to whom has been granted a year's leave of absence by the trustees, that she may have a much needed change and pursue her studies at Leland Stanford University. Every effort will be made to carefully fill the place thus made vacant. The able services of the other teachers will be retained.

Amongst the noteworthy features of Commencement week, was the entertainment given by the pupils of the Model school, in Normal chapel. Music, a dialogue by the older children and an operetta, "The Rainbow Prince," by the little children, constituted the program. The proceeds went towards buying new books for the Model School Library.

Miss Bethella Shaw, '82, who has been teaching in Portland, Oregon, expects to visit her sister in Butler, Pa., this summer.

Mr. G. L. Glenn, who passed junior a few years ago is principal of the Clayville Public Schools.

The Senior class numbers 71; the Junior, 75; Preparatory, 42.

MARRIED.

May 29, at her home in Blairsville, Miss Grace Hodge, '86, to Mr. George Craighead, of Pittsburg, Pa. The HERALD extends greetings

PERSONALS.

We are delighted recently to hear from our Carrie Gwynn, of '77, now Mrs. Blatchley, of Caldwell, Idaho. She writes, "received yesterday a copy of the Normal HERALD, and what a host of happy recollections and tender memories of by-gone days it brings to mind. I rejoice in the grand success of the school and feel a trill of pride in reading of her alumni." Our friend has been ill for several years, but "they also serve who only stand and wait."

Hon. John P. Elkin, '80, is not only a successful lawyer and Assistant Attorney General of the state, but a useful citizen, and is taking an active part in the interests of the town in which he lives. He is a director in the Indiana Public Schools, a trustee of our Normal School and one of the most intelligent and influential friends of the Normal School System, that the state can boast.

Prof. J. M. Berkey, '78, is serving his second term as County Superintendent of Somerset county. He was a member of the board at our recent examination and made at its close one of the wittiest, brightest addresses ever made on our platform. We are proud that he is making for himself throughout the state a fine reputation as an educator.

Mr. William A. Cochran, '80, Indiana county's former Superintendent, is now a merchant in Johnstown, always ready to speak a good word for his old school or to do kindness for Normalites. He is already an officer in the church, Superintendent of the Sunday School and School Director in his adopted city.

Miss Mary Kennedy, '87, is one of a number of our girls who are principals of schools, at fine salaries. We shall make mention of Mary, from time to time for the purpose of encouraging others to make thorough preparation and to look upon their work as a profession.

R. M. Wilson, scientific, is cashier of the Blairsville National Bank and is, like a good citizen, identifying himself with the interests and enterprises of the town. He is a School Director; in our judgment, one of his most responsible duties.

Miss Sarah Horrocks, '85, is one of the five teachers whom the Pittsburg Times, is sending to Europe. The HERALD congratulates her upon her popularity and her prospects of a generous and beautiful European trip.

Miss Jennie Martin, of '85, was appointed "lady inspector" of the Soldiers Orphan School, in July 1889, and has been reappointed each succeeding year. Her salary is $1,000 a year.

Miss Rena S. Eckman, '87, taught for several years in Ft. Collins, Col. In 1893, she accepted a higher position in the Public Schools of Denver, where she is still teaching.

J. P. Archibald, '93, has filled the position of principal of the Saltsburg Public Schools, since his graduation. Under his management, the schools have made fine progress.

Base Ball.

Our base ball team, with Mr. Wiggins as manager, has done fairly good work. There were two things, however, which hindered success. First, the manager always played teams far superior to his own; and second, he had very little financial backing. The association was almost bankrupt and with neither enclosed ground nor a good grand stand, it kept the manager hustling to make expenses.

Out of eleven games, our own won three, lost six and tied two. Poor playing lost two of the six, but the other four were fought to the finish. Kiskiminetas took two games and tied one; Greensburg took one and tied one; Johnstown took two and Apollo took one; Derry lost one, South Fork lost one and Glen Campbell lost one by a score or twenty-five to four.

The second game with Johnstown, deserves special mention. It was a pitchers battle with two Williams in the box. The Normal Williams gave nine hits and struck out ten men, while the Johnstown Williams, gave eleven hits and struck out thirteen men. Each team had six errors. It was the best game played in Johnstown since the old State League games.

Our battery, Kinsel and Williams, did good work throughout the whole season, but they did not always have good support. They ranked among the heavy hitters, Kinsel being third and Williams fourth. Gourley leads the batting with McElhose only a small fraction behind.

The team was made up as follows:

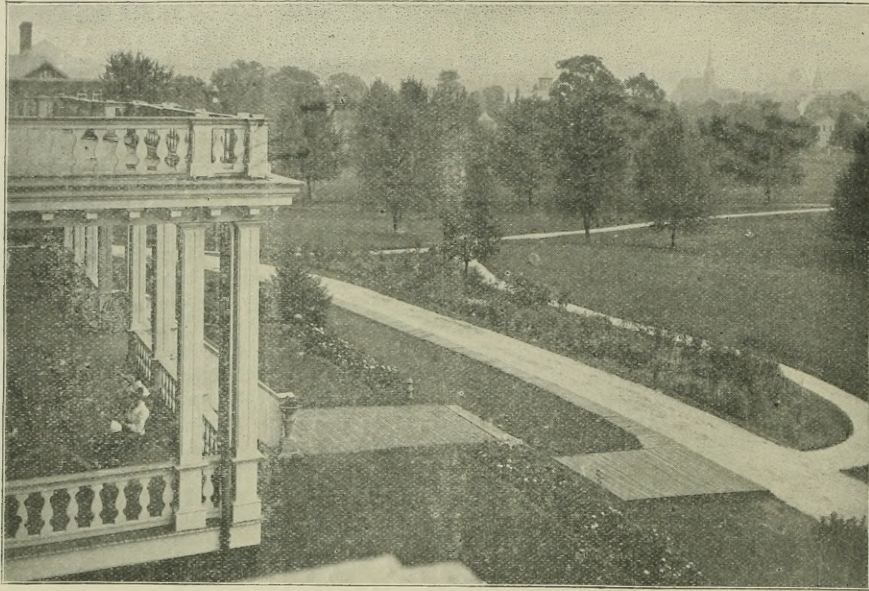

Kinsel, c.; Williams, p.; Wood, ss.; Pounds, 1 b.; McElhose, 2nd.; St. Clair, 3d.; Gourley, 1 f.; McGaughey, c f.; Gerhart, r f.

The Senior Reception.

To such as have never enjoyed the delightful hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. Waller, the announcement that on Friday evening, June 28, they threw open their doors for the entertainment of the graduating class will not convey an adequate impression. It is necessary that one be present on such an occasion to fully appreciate it. Shortly after eight o'clock on the evening above mentioned, the principal's elegant apartments in the south wing were comfortably filled with members of the faculty, and of the senior class in whose honor the reception was given. Dr. and Mrs. Waller received their guests just inside the parlor, and in their usual happy style placed them at ease and prepared for the evening's enjoyment. The rooms were tastefully decorated with margurites and wild roses, and everything about seemed to harmonize with the bright and cheerful spirit of those present. The young ladies of the class, beaming with pleasure, presented a pretty picture, to say nothing of the young men who looked stately and dignified over the new honor of having vanquished the examining committee. All wore their

The Lawn Fete.

Of the many pleasant social events of the present term, probably none was more heartily enjoyed by students and teachers than the lawn fete given by the senior class on Monday evening, June 10.

The present senior class is noted for the number and variety of the enterprises it puts forth, and this occasion tended to increase its reputation in that respect. All afternoon the seniors were noticed going to and from the grove, laden with all sorts of burdens, much after the fashion of a hive of bees in the height of the honey making season, so that when the guests began to arrive in the cool of the evening they found the place transformed into a veritable fairies' bower. Long lines of Japanese lanterns had been hung between the trees, and the open spaces of the wood were occupied by snow-white refreshment tables, over which the young ladies of the class presided with ease and grace.

The Normal Orchestra made its first appearance on this occasion, and from its position at the north door of the building filled the grove and the adjacent campus with the most delightful music. It rendered four selections during the evening all of which were highly appreciated by those present.

This being the first open air reception of the year, all the students turned out, and quite a number of guests from town attended. The evening was just warm enough to create a demand for the cool refreshments so temptingly displayed, so that the tables were kept well filled. As darkness came on the lanterns were lighted, thus producing a pretty effect, and the entertainment was continued until nine o'clock, at which hour the students quietly dispersed to their rooms.

The many little social events of this kind are strong features of the student life at Indiana. They bring the students together, at intervals, in the formal relations of ladies and gentlemen of society, and add to their otherwise dull school life, an element of healthy home-like sociability without which no education is complete.

Normal Notes.

The students taking Junior English this year, have written an aggregate of more than 5,000 essays aver in each, about 500 words. The subjects written upon were progressive, and aimed at leading the students to find and use the material by which they were surrounded. The essays covered the processes, narration, description, exposition, and argumentation. After correction, each writer made a file of his work for the term. They have studied the lives of the best American Authors and have read selections from their writings. Among those read were "Snow-Bound," "Courtship of Miles Standish," "Evangeline," "Vision of Sir Launfal," "The Closing Scene." The course in composition and rhetoric covers the entire year.

David Waller left home for the West Thursday, June 27. He will spend the summer in a trip, starting from Casper, Wyoming, and traveling to the hot springs on the Shoshone Indian Reservation, thence into the Leton mountains for hunting and fishing. The journey, between eight and ten hundred miles in length, will be made entirely on horseback, a wagon being used only for the luggage. There will be six or eight in the party; they expect to take some large game. We wish the party a good time.

Dr. Schmucker has accepted the chair of science in West Chester Normal School. Any school securing the services of Dr. Schmucker is fortunate; his earnest enthusiasm and progressive spirit insure success wherever he goes. We shall miss him. He is woven into the social fabric of our school; his genial manner and Christian courtesy have been helpful to the thousands of students he has touched during his six years' work in Indiana.

Madame Schmucker's friends will be glad to hear that she sailed from Alexandria, Egypt, June 12, for Palestine. After spending some time in Jerusalem and vicinity her party will go to Mount Lebanon where they will take a house for the summer. She will resume her teaching in Assiut in the early autumn.

Miss Wright, teacher of German and History, has resigned, expecting to spend next year abroad. She will sail Oct. 14. The winter will be spent at Dresden, in study; the following summer, in travel. She will return home in the autumn of '96. Our best wishes go with her.

The State Examining Committee for '95 was composed of Deputy Superintendent Stewart; Dr. Waller; Superintendents Keith, of Altoona; Berkey, of Somerset; Bigler, of Venango; Ulerich, of Westmoreland, and Hammers of Indiana.

The "Y Library," two hundred volumes, open to the young ladies every Sabbath, has been well patronized during the year. Most of the girls have taken out several books, and many have read from ten to twenty.

Dr. Schmucker's wife and children left Indiana June 17. Mrs. Schmucker, on account of ill health, is spending a few weeks at the Sanitarium, Walter's Park. Beal and Dorothy are at Allentown with Mrs. Schmucker's parents.

The orchestra, under the earnest management of Prof. Chambers, lately showed their appreciation of his services by presenting him with an ebony baton tipped with silver and having an ivory handle.

Miss Leonard goes to the N. E. A. at Denver, thence to Colorado Springs where she will attend the summer school. The remaining weeks of the term she will spend with relatives in New Mexico.

Mabel and David Waller, having taken the Junior preparatory examination at Bloomsburg returned to that place to take the Junior. Mabel will remain to visit with relatives for a few weeks.

After commencement, Miss Mansfield will leave for Arizona, where she will spend the summer with her brother, Captain Mansfield. She will enter Leland Stanford University in the fall.

A Diet-kitchen provided with an Aladdin as well as oil stoves, and a cupboard well furnished by the King's Daughters is a great convenience in caring for the sick.

The trustees have decided to erect a grand stand on the base ball park. This will add to the comfort of those attending the games.

Dr. Waller was on the examining committee of Kutztown Normal School. He brings a good report from Berks county.

The class in surveying has made a plot of the Normal School grounds, and located the buildings, walks, etc.

Cement walks are being made along the north side of the Normal School grounds, near the Model School.

The Juniors put forty-two weeks on First Year in Latin Harkness. There are eight classes this term.

Misses Ruth Tiffany and Gertrude Cunningham were graduated in the Scientific course this year.

The degree of B. S. was conferred on Prof. W. G. Chambers by the Examining Committee.

There are 631 students in attendance this term; 893 different students during the year.

The chair of science made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Schmucker, has been filled by Mr. C. B. Robertson, a graduate of Westminster College, '93. He is a specialist in his line and comes highly recommended as a teacher.

Mr. F. J. Sherrard, of Washington and Jefferson College, has been elected to teach Latin and Greek. He has had three years successful experience in teaching the classics, in Chambersburg Academy.

Mr. Gordon expects to study in the University of Pennsylvania, during vacation. Miss McBride and Mrs. Riddle, will study at Chautauqua.

The class in Advanced Elocution, presented Miss Kendig with seven volumes of Roef's Shakespear, at the close of the term.

Miss Edith Dudley, a former teacher in this school, is visiting her friends at the Normal.

Mr. Stearns will attend the Teachers' College in New York the coming year.

Miss Emma E. Davis will study in the University of Chicago this vacation.

Musical Recital.

The graduating recital, Monday evening, June 4, by Miss Esther Drenning, was a musical treat. Miss Drenning who had just completed the musical course, rendered beautifully, without notes, a program of classical music to the delight of her audience. She was assisted by Miss Carrie Angell, of Pittsburg, a vocalist of rare ability.

The following is the program of the evening.

- 1 Melodies Russes, No. 1 ..... F. Liszt
Miss Esther Drenning.
- 2 Thou Brilliant Bird ..... Felicien David
Miss Carrie Angell.
- 3 Sonata, Op. 2, No. 3 ..... Beethoven
Allegro con brio.
Adagio.
Scherzo.
Allegro Assai.
Miss Esther Drenning.
- 4 (a) The Fields in May ..... Coombs
(b) Sweetheart ..... Lynne
Miss Carrie Angell.
- 5 Polonaise, Op. 26 ..... F. Chopin
Miss Esther Drenning.
- 6 Summer Song ..... Chaminade
Miss Carrie Angell.
- 7 Tarentelle, Op. 13 ..... Nicode
Miss Esther Drenning.

new class pin, a violet and white pentant with "'95" in gold figures—as it were, a badge of honor.

At intervals Miss Kennedy, of the faculty, ushered little groups into the sitting room where five ladies of the junior class, Misses Irene Armstrong, Highberger, Mateer, Nellie Menges and Randle, gracefully served refreshments. Considerable excitement was aroused by the announcement, during the evening, that a marriage ceremony was to be a feature of the occasion; and all assembled in the parlor—with a great crushing of sleeves—to witness the contract. But the person chosen to "give the bride away" did his part so effectually that the groom refused to accept her.

Of course, Prof. Apple sang. He first delighted all with "My Darling is my Darling," and afterward gave as an encore "Oft in the Stilly Night," and "Annie Laurie" by request. Miss Kennedy played the "Norwegian Bridal Procession" by Greig, and "The Brook" by Willie Pope.

Time passed quickly with games and songs until the little cuckoo clock in the library warned the guests that the retiring bell had long since rung, when they bade their host and hostess good night—a thoroughly delighted crowd.

Erodelphian Anniversary.

On the evening of May 31, the Erodelphian Literary Society celebrated its twentieth anniversary.

This being one of the most important events of the year, many former students and friends of the school were present. The audience was large and appreciative.

The program was opened with an overture by the Indiana Orchestra, after which prayer was offered by Rev. J. Day Brownlee, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church.

The President's Address, by Mr. A. C. Gordon, '89, was an able plea for recognition of individual worth. Mr. Gordon is principal of the Eleventh ward schools of Allegheny.

Mr. J. Lisle Apple, who is always enthusiastically received by an Indiana audience, sang "When the Heart is Young," by Dudley Buck, and responded to an encore with "Two's Company, Three's a Crowd," in his usual happy manner.

The reader of the evening, Miss Edith Coffin, '92, of Allegheny, gave "A Sisterly Scheme," one of H. C. Bunner's bright summer stories.

Miss Charlotte Clark, '92, of Indiana, rendered a selection of Joseffy's. Miss Clark was graduated from the Music Department a year ago and is now assistant.

Bizet's "Oh! This Love is a Bird So Wild" from "Carmen," was sung by Miss Caroline Rowland Hall, of Indiana. We have had few opportunities to hear Miss Hall sing since her study at Boston and her hearers were much pleased when she sang again in response to their hearty applause.

When first it was announced that an important bill then pending in the Legislature, had prevented the Hon. James B. Hammond, '87, from being present, the audience was much disappointed, but he had sent the "Review," and Mr. A. M. Hammers, County Superintendent of Indiana county, kindly consented to read it.

The evening's program was closed with music by the orchestra.

Mrs. Birdie McLaren-Keener, '83, of Indiana, was Secretary.

The chapel was decorated with blue and white, the society colors, and a profusion of daisies and ferns.

The plan for the future is to make the Society Anniversary a part of the program for commencement week.

The Tennis Tournament.

The Athletic Association furnished a very pleasant diversion this season by having a tennis tournament. There was a good deal of interest displayed by both the players and the school in general. The events were men's singles, ladies' singles, and mixed doubles. In the first, R. H. Wiggins, of Blairsville, won the Slocum racquet, offered by Daugherty Bros. In the ladies' singles, Miss Margaret Thompson, of the Senior class, won a Slocum Junior racquet, offered by Mr. Henry Hall; and R. H. Wiggins and Miss Margaret Cubbage, of the Senior class, won the two Slocum Junior racquets for the mixed doubles, offered by Mr. Tom E. Hildebrand. The results were:
